Business Emails

Business emails are an important tool for communication in the modern workplace.

Secure email platforms.

We are able to provide your business with a dependable and secure email platform, along with hosting for the necessary number of accounts. In today's digital landscape, business email platforms offer more than just email functionality. They often come with a wide range of additional features such as document storage, document software, internal chat systems, and much more to help your business grow and operate smoothly.

Having a business email is an essential part of running a successful business. It allows customers and potential clients to easily contact you with questions or orders, and can make it easier for you to share important documents with colleagues and partners. Business emails also create a sense of professionalism, giving your customers the confidence that they are dealing with a legitimate business.

Google Workspace

We are partnered with Google to provide their popular email platform, Google Workspace. With generous storage and a wealth of features, this option is ideal for businesses of all sizes.

Microsoft Office

We can also provide the well-known and widely used email platforms from Microsoft, Office 365 and Exchange with flexible plans to suit your exact business requirements.

Email Forwarding

For those that don't want a dedicated inbox but still want the benefit of a professional business email linked to their website, we can provide email forwarding solutions.

Set up a professional system to manage your clients.

Keep in contact with your clients, anywhere.

A business email address is a powerful tool for your business and having one associated with your website or domain name makes it easier for customers to associate you with a professional identity. Setting up an email account through Star Websites is simple and hassle-free, allowing you to focus on growing your business.

Your newly created business email address is accessible via any desktop email client, web browser, or mobile device. Whether you are after an info@, enquires@ or another variation, we can set this up and link it to your domain name, providing legitimacy to the customer. We can set you up with one general account or provide each member of your team with their own communication line, keeping you in touch at all times.

If you aren't looking to create a new email address, we can also run a forwarder from the likes on an info@ straight to your direct email.
